Domestic abuse is a health care issue. The Wisconsin Women's Health Foundation is pleased to be part of a group of advocates that are joining together to assess providers' practices and needs. By doing so, we can effectively focus resources on assisting patients to reduce barriers, increase safety, and address acute and long-term health consequences of domestic abuse.

As President of the Wisconsin Women's Health Foundation, I will continue to speak out against domestic abuse and assure that it remains a focus of our work.

Yours for a Healthy Wisconsin,

Sue Ann Thompson
